

Faith-Filled Generosity 2022 Stewardship Campaign

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, in its document “Living Faith, ELCA-wide Call to Discipleship,” states:
“The maturing disciple is also maturing in financial stewardship, understands the biblical tithe, and is growing in sacrificial and joyful giving toward and beyond a ten percent response in all areas of life. Part of the disciple’s job description is to give freely.”

Here are some thoughts from your Council leaders responding to the question: How does your faith impact or direct your generosity, both at St. Peter and in the world?

God provides everything we have. To help others to grow in their faith, it is important for us to support our church. We are simply returning to God what he has first given to us. The church not only spreads the good news of Christ, but reaches out to others in need.
-Ernie Mangold

I know my faith has allowed me to love more people by helping and listening to them. Being an assisting minister has given me the faith and trust in myself to go out and love more people. My church is something I cherish.
-Gloria Setzler

Faith is everything. Faith in God to provide is what causes me to feel generous. Having faith that God will provide and is in control is comforting and I like to share that. -Mike Stevens

God has been so generous with us.
How can we be more generous with our church and in the world?

Faith-Filled Generosity 2022 Stewardship Campaign

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, in its document “Living Faith, ELCA-wide Call to Discipleship,” states:
“The maturing disciple is also maturing in financial stewardship, understands the biblical tithe, and is growing in sacrificial and joyful giving toward and beyond a ten percent response in all areas of life. Part of the disciple’s job description is to give freely.”

Here are some thoughts from your Council leaders responding to the question: How does your faith impact or direct your generosity, both at St. Peter and in the world?

God provides everything we have. To help others to grow in their faith, it is important for us to support our church. We are simply returning to God what he has first given to us. The church not only spreads the good news of Christ, but reaches out to others in need.
-Ernie Mangold

I know my faith has allowed me to love more people by helping and listening to them. Being an assisting minister has given me the faith and trust in myself to go out and love more people. My church is something I cherish.
-Gloria Setzler

Faith is everything. Faith in God to provide is what causes me to feel generous. Having faith that God will provide and is in control is comforting and I like to share that. -Mike Stevens

God has been so generous with us.
How can we be more generous with our church and in the world?